YO ANIMATIONS

Brand Concept and Guidelines

Final version | October 24, 2026 | Palette: Burgundy Velvet | Fonts: Italiana and Cinzel
Built from the Phase 1 Client Discovery Report. Previews use stand-in fonts.

1. Brand concept: "The Reveal"

YO Animations makes a product feel like the only object in the room: one light, one frame, one moment of reveal. The brand idea is The Reveal, the instant a product steps out of darkness and shows how beautiful it is.

Why this fits the discovery findings

- Yassin's first priority is cinematic video quality, and his product work favors cinematic presentation of a product's beauty over narrative-heavy ads. A reveal is a cinematic gesture that needs no story.
- His target is premium jewelry, accessories and perfume. These categories live on light, reflection, texture and atmosphere.
- The personality scales point to luxury, serious, bold, artistic and emotional. A single beam of light in a dark frame carries all five.

Positioning statement (draft from the report, lightly tightened)

YO Animations creates high-quality cinematic product advertisements for premium-positioned brands, using AI-led production and 3D expertise to present products with visual impact.

The name. YO comes from Yassin Omran. Treat "YO" as the short mark and "YO Animations" as the full studio name. The fingerprint from the current logo stays as the brand's signature (see Logo and below).

The signature. The fingerprint is kept and becomes the brand's second idea: every frame is made by a person. Yassin's production is AI-led, and the fingerprint says the vision, direction and finish are his. It also fits the product world: a fingerprint's concentric ridges echo the shape of a ring, the contour lines of a 3D model and ripples of light. The two ideas work together: the product is revealed, and the maker signs it. In practice: a fingerprint end frame on videos, a faint ridge pattern as a background texture, and the light sweep passing across the ridges.

Tagline options (for testing, none approved)

Option	Angle
Your product, brought to light.	Reveal, premium, emotional
Cinematic product films.	Plain and professional
See your product like this.	Speaks to the client's imagination (the stated desired reaction)
Where products become visual stories.	Yassin's own Instagram line (with the grammar fixed). Already in his voice and already public.

Primary call to action (recommended, not approved): Discuss Your Project, linking to WhatsApp.

2. Personality and principles

The brand reads as premium, cinematic, serious, artistic, bold and emotionally engaging, with a small dose of experimentation. This is how each of Yassin's ratings becomes a design behavior.

Scale (1 to 5)	Yassin's rating	What it means in practice
Minimal / Experimental	3-4	Clean layouts, with one experimental device per piece (a transition, a type treatment, a camera move). Never several at once.
Luxury / Accessible	1	Dark, spacious, restrained. Generous margins, few elements, no discount-style cues.
Serious / Playful	1	No jokes, stickers, emoji or cartoon graphics. Confident, precise tone.
Artistic / Commercial	2	Lead with craft and atmosphere, not sales language.

Futuristic / Timeless	2	Modern, technical details (mono type, fine grids, light-beam motifs), not retro or classical pastiche.
Bold / Subtle	2	Big imagery, large type, strong contrast. Quiet details only as accents.
Technical / Emotional	4	Feeling first: warmth in the gold, slow pacing, human copy. Technical info stays secondary.

Four brand principles (from the draft in the report)

1. Product beauty first. The product is always the focal point.
2. Cinematic craft. Composition, lighting, atmosphere and finish decide every choice.
3. Professional confidence. Restraint and precision, without hiding artistic ambition.
4. Consistent recognition. One repeatable language across every channel.

A fifth, client clarity, governs the website and pitches: services, examples and the inquiry steps must be easy to understand.

3. Voice and messaging

YO Animations speaks like a calm director: short sentences, sensory words, no hype. It talks about the client's product, not about itself.

Voice traits

- Composed. State things plainly. No exclamation marks, no slang, no emoji.
- Visual. Use light, surface, motion, texture and detail. Avoid abstract buzzwords such as "innovative" and "cutting-edge".
- Client-centered. Invite the reader to picture their own product.
- Honest. Describe the method truthfully (see section 11).

Sample lines (drafts for approval)

Use	Draft
Hero line	Cinematic product films for brands that value how things look.
Sub-line	Jewelry, accessories and fragrance, shot in light you've never seen on your product.
Services intro	AI-led visual production, with Blender 3D animation when the project needs it.
CTA button	Discuss Your Project
Pitch deck opener	Imagine your product here.

WhatsApp starter message. The CTA should open a pre-filled message that collects what Yassin wants to know before discussing a project:

> Hi Yassin, I'd like to discuss a video for my product. Product: / How I see it, my vision: / References: / Budget: / Goal of the video:

Words to use: reveal, light, finish, detail, craft, frame, motion. Words to avoid: cheap, fast and easy, viral, hacks, "just AI".

4. Logo concept and usage

The current logo is a teal fingerprint beside a dark YO, set inside a light grey textured disc with a dark ring. The fingerprint idea is kept. The execution is what changes. The directions below are concepts to be drawn and tested, not final artwork. Six concept drawings follow the assessment.

Assessment of the current logo

- Works: the fingerprint is memorable, reads as a personal signature, and connects to rings and ridged textures. YO is short and legible at avatar size.
- Fix: the fingerprint looks like a generic biometric or phone-unlock icon, so it can read as tech or security. Redraw the ridges as a custom shape owned by this brand.
- Fix: the fingerprint and the YO letters feel like two separate pieces. They differ in weight, color and style.
- Fix: the grey textured disc and double ring look like a badge and do not match a dark, cinematic brand.
- Fix: the dark YO letters disappear on dark backgrounds, so a light version is needed. There is no ANIMATIONS wordmark yet.

Three directions to draw (pick one to develop)

1. A. Fingerprint as the O (recommended). The letters Y and O, where the O is a fingerprint-shaped oval. Ridges are redrawn as clean concentric ovals, and the top ridge opens into a Rose Gold arc, like light catching a ring. This is the most compact option and merges both ideas into one mark.
2. B. Fingerprint beside YO (closest to today). Keep the current structure, but redraw both parts with the same stroke weight and corner style, in one color, with YO in a wide, clean sans.

3. C. Fingerprint as a stand-alone symbol. The fingerprint alone for avatars, end frames and watermarks, and the YO wordmark everywhere else.

Drawing notes. Use 5 to 7 ridges at large sizes and a simplified 3 to 4 ridge version below 48 px so the mark stays clean. The wordmark ANIMATIONS is set in small, widely tracked capitals.

Lockups

- Horizontal: YO monogram, then ANIMATIONS in small, widely tracked capitals aligned to the baseline.
- Stacked: monogram above, ANIMATIONS below, centered. For title cards and covers.
- Monogram only: for avatars, favicons, watermarks and video end frames.

Rules

Rule	Spec
Clear space	At least the height of the letter O (or the fingerprint oval) on all sides
Minimum size	Monogram 24 px / 8 mm wide; horizontal lockup 120 px / 30 mm wide
Colors	Cream on Oxblood or Mulberry (default), Oxblood on Cream, or all-Cream. The Rose Gold arc is used on every ground, in a deeper tone on light ones.
Placement	Corners or centered on a title card. Never over busy parts of the product.
Never	Stretch, add shadows or bevels, use gold for the letters, put on low-contrast footage, or use client or reference brand logos beside it as if affiliated.

The mark should be tested at avatar size for Instagram (a circle crop) before approval.

5. Color system: Burgundy Velvet

The palette is Burgundy Velvet: warm, emotional and sensual, which fits perfume and jewelry. Oxblood is the main ground, Mulberry is the second ground, and Rose Gold is the accent for the call to action, the logo arc and the light sweep. Blush and Cream carry the light tones and the text. Hex values are proposed starting points; confirm them against Yassin's real footage before they become final tokens.

Oxblood	Mulberry	Rose Gold	Blush	Cream
#4A0E1C	#7A2540	#C98B7B	#EBCFC4	#F6EDE3

Usage on a typical page

Oxblood 45%	Mulberry 15%			Cream 25%

Rose Gold 8% and Blush 7%. Rose Gold is a highlight, never a large fill.

Role	Name	Hex	Use
Main ground	Oxblood	#4A0E1C	Home page, hero, decks, title cards, footers
Second ground	Mulberry	#7A2540	Product panels, alternate sections, cards, hover states
Accent	Rose Gold	#C98B7B	CTA, logo arc, light sweep, thin rules, key numbers
Soft tint	Blush	#EBCFC4	Secondary text on dark grounds, light cards, captions
Light ground and text	Cream	#F6EDE3	Headlines and body text on dark grounds, light pages, print

Rules

- Roughly 45% Oxblood, 15% Mulberry, 25% Cream, 8% Rose Gold and 7% Blush. Rose Gold is a highlight, never a large fill.
- Oxblood and Mulberry are neighbors, so they can share a page, for example Oxblood sections with Mulberry product panels.
- Cream and Blush pass WCAG AA contrast on Oxblood and Mulberry for body-size text. Rose Gold passes on Oxblood, but on Mulberry use it only for large text and graphics.
- Oxblood text on Cream, Blush and Rose Gold passes AA, so buttons use Oxblood text on a Rose Gold fill.
- Keep Rose Gold flat, with no gradients or glow, so it reads as refined metal.
- The product's own colors stay the loudest colors on the page.
- The brand can switch to a light page (Cream ground, Oxblood text) for the work and services pages and for print. The dark Oxblood ground stays the signature for the home page, title cards and video.

6. Typography

The brand uses two typefaces, both free on Google Fonts, so the same files work on the web, in Canva or Figma, and in slides. Italiana is the display face. Cinzel handles everything else.

YO ANIMATIONS

The specimens above use stand-in fonts of a similar style. The real fonts are Italiana and Cinzel, both free on Google Fonts. Install them before producing artwork.

Role	Typeface	Weights	Use

Display	Italiana	Regular (one weight)	Hero lines, section headings, the YO letters in the logo. Large only (28 px and up), because it is very thin.
Primary and UI	Cinzel	Regular 400, Medium 500, SemiBold 600	Navigation, buttons, labels, the ANIMATIONS lockup, and short supporting lines.

Type scale (web)

Style	Font	Desktop	Mobile	Line height	Tracking
Hero	Italiana	72-96 px	40-48 px	1.0	0
H2	Italiana	44-56 px	32-36 px	1.05	0
H3	Italiana	28-32 px	24-26 px	1.1	0
Body (short)	Cinzel 400	15-16 px	14-15 px	1.7	0.02 em
Navigation and buttons	Cinzel 600, uppercase	12-13 px	11-12 px	1.2	0.08 em
Label	Cinzel 500, uppercase	11-12 px	11 px	1.3	0.2 em
Lockup ANIMATIONS	Cinzel 400, uppercase	Scales with the logo		1.0	0.4 em

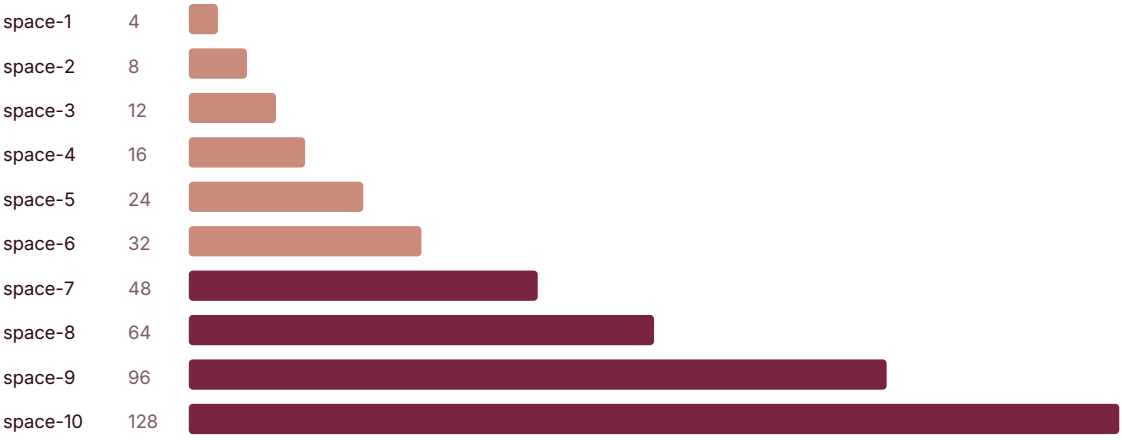

Rules

- One Italiana display line per screen. Use sentence case in Italiana headlines.
- Cinzel shows lowercase letters as small capitals. Use it for navigation, buttons, labels and short copy of up to three lines. Keep lines to 45-65 characters.
- Never set Italiana below 28 px, and never set long paragraphs in it.
- Both typefaces are serifs, so there is no easy-reading sans for long text. For proposals and case-study copy, set Cinzel at 14 px with a 1.8 line height, or add a quiet sans such as Manrope as an optional third font. This is an open decision (see open items).
- If the brand later targets Arabic-speaking markets (Egypt and the Gulf were raised but not selected), choose an Arabic family to pair with Cinzel and Italiana, such as IBM Plex Sans Arabic or Noto Naskh Arabic, and test it before launch.

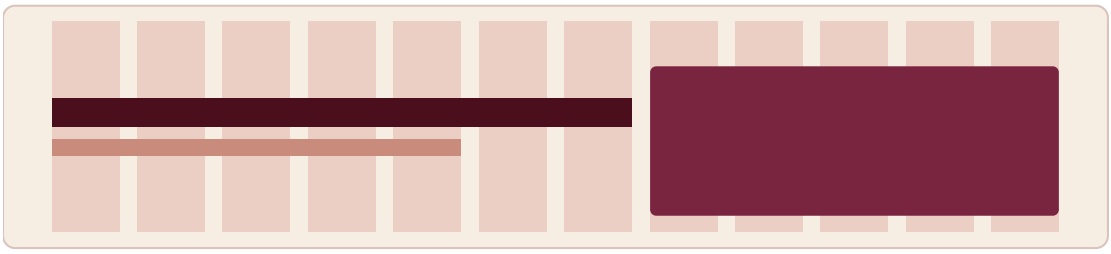

7. Spacing and layout system

Space is part of the luxury. The system uses an 8 px base unit with a 4 px half step, generous margins and few elements per screen.

Spacing scale (px). Base unit 8, half step 4.

Desktop grid: 12 columns, 64 px margins, 24 px gutters (1440 px frame shown at 0.38 scale)

Spacing tokens

Token	Value	Typical use
space-1	4 px	Icon gaps, tight label spacing

space-1	4 px	Icon gaps, tight label spacing
space-2	8 px	Between a label and its value, small gaps
space-3	12 px	Vertical button padding, small card gaps
space-4	16 px	Mobile gutter, label to headline, gap between buttons space-5	24 px	Desktop gutter, card padding, headline to sub-line
space-6	32 px	Sub-line to button, gap between tiles in a row space-7	48 px	Between content blocks inside a section space-8	64 px	Desktop page margin
space-9	96 px	Tablet section padding, top of the hero
space-10	128 px	Desktop section padding

Grid and margins

Screen	Columns	Page margin	Gutter	Content width
Desktop, 1200 px and up	12	64 px	24 px	1280 px maximum, centered
Tablet, 768 to 1199 px	8	40 px	20 px	Fluid
Mobile, under 768 px	4	20 px	16 px	Fluid

Components

Element	Spec
Navigation bar	72 px high on desktop, 56 px on mobile. Monogram left, 3 to 4 links and the button right. 1 px Mulberry divider below.
Button	44 px high (48 px on mobile), 24 px side padding, 6 px corner radius. Cinzel SemiBold 12 px, uppercase, 0.08 em tracking. 16 px between buttons.
Cards and panels	8 px corner radius, 24 px padding (16 px on mobile). Media tiles use a 16 px gap.
Hero stack	96 px above the label, then 16 px to the headline, 24 px to the sub-line, 32 px to the button.
Section padding	128 px top and bottom on desktop, 96 px on tablet, 72 px on mobile.
Dividers	1 px lines in Mulberry (on dark) or Blush (on light).
WhatsApp button	56 px round (48 px on mobile), 24 px from the right and bottom edges, always visible.
Corner radius	6 px controls, 8 px cards and media, 12 px large containers. Never fully rounded except avatars.

Vertical rhythm. Align spacing to multiples of 8 px. Keep text blocks to 45-65 characters per line, and keep at least one full section of empty space around the hero headline.

Logo spacing. Clear space equals the height of the letter O (or the fingerprint oval) on every side. Minimum size is 24 px wide for the monogram and 120 px wide for the horizontal lockup.

Video, slides and print

Format	Spacing rule
Title card (16:9)	Keep all content inside a 10% safe margin. The logo is at most 20% of the frame width, centered. The light sweep line is 3 px at 1080p.
Instagram Reels (9:16)	Keep key content out of the top 14% and bottom 20% of the frame, where the interface covers it.
Instagram posts (4:5)	8% inner margin around the product.
Instagram avatar	Keep the mark inside the central 80% so the circle crop never touches it.
Slides (1920 x 1080)	96 px side margins, 80 px top and bottom, one idea per slide.
Print and PDF (A4)	20 mm margins on all sides, 8 mm between columns.
8. Imagery, motion and layout

Imagery: the product is the light source

- One hero product per frame. A dark or deep-tone ground is the signature look, as in his gold jewelry frames on warm black with soft bokeh. Light, airy scenes stay allowed for fragrance and cosmetics when the product remains the focal point. Use controlled highlights and visible texture (metal grain, glass, liquid, gemstone facets).

- Compose for depth: foreground blur, slow macro moves, reflections. Avoid clutter and busy props.
- Show each client piece in its own palette. Do not color-grade every project to gold or burgundy.
- Where possible, show a short loop or video, not a still. Stills are for covers and thumbnails.
- Aspect ratios: 16:9 or 2.39:1 for showreels and case studies, 9:16 for Instagram Reels, 4:5 for Instagram posts.

Curating the grid (from the 16 thumbnails reviewed)

- Lead with: the gold jewelry macros on dark grounds, the diamond band close-up, and the fragrance hero shots. These match the luxury, bold and cinematic ratings and show the "your product, brought to life" idea best.
- Use as secondary proof: lifestyle shots of models wearing jewelry. They suit accessories clients. Keep the grade consistently warm, and use the playful frame (the bubble gum) sparingly, because the serious rating is 1.
- Use as process content: the "POV: Artist's Vision" Blender wireframe ring. It is a strong 3D-skills piece for case studies and Instagram Highlights.
- Keep off the main reel and homepage: the cartoon-style shop scene, the noir city illustration, the mango and energy-drink clip and the living-room scene. They show range but pull against luxury and seriousness, and the cartoon piece resembles the style of an existing animated series, so its rights need checking before it is published on the website.
- Label concept work. Several fragrance bottles carry labels that look invented. If these are self-initiated concepts, label them as such so they are not mistaken for client work.

Motion language

- Slow and weighted: ease-in-out, 0.6 to 1.2 seconds for interface transitions.
- Signature device, the light sweep: a thin horizontal beam of light crosses the frame to reveal a title, logo or product. Use it on title cards, showreel openers and the website loader. This is the one experimental device the brand repeats.
- No bounce, spin or playful easing. Cuts and fades on the beat, not on gimmicks.
- Video title cards: 1.5 to 3 seconds. End frame: monogram with Rose Gold arc, 1 second.

Layout

- 12-column grid on desktop, 4 on mobile, with wide outer margins (at least 6% of width).
- Work fills the width. Text sits in narrow columns with large empty space around it.
- Navigation stays small and quiet: monogram left, 3 to 4 links and the CTA right. The CTA is the only Rose Gold-filled button on the page.
- A fixed WhatsApp button stays visible on every page at mobile and desktop.

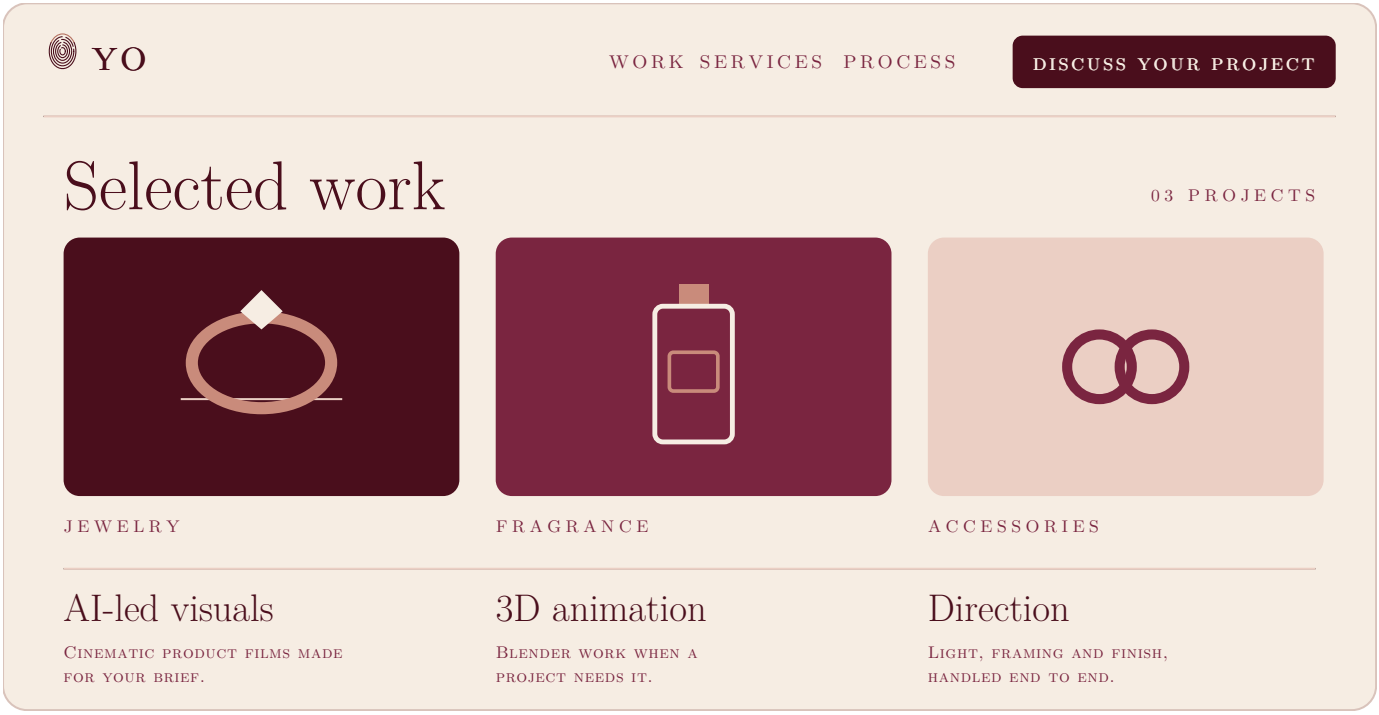

9. Website examples

The three pages below show how the system works together: the dark home page, the light work and services page, and the mobile views. The product pictures are placeholders and the type uses stand-in fonts.

10. Application by channel

Ordered by Yassin's priority ranking (1 is highest). Rank 3 was not supplied and is left blank. The identity stays the same everywhere, while layouts adapt to each medium.

Rank	Channel	How the brand shows up
1	Portfolio website	Oxblood ground with Mulberry product panels, full-width hero reel with the light sweep, 4 to 6 selected projects, short services block, "Discuss Your Project" CTA and fixed WhatsApp button. Page order: hero reel, selected work, services, how a project works, contact.
2	Instagram	Redrawn logo as the avatar. Bio rewritten (see below). Consistent cover frames per Reel (product centered, small mono label for category). Highlights named Work, Process, Contact. Captions in the brand voice, CTA to WhatsApp in bio.
3	(not	Left blank until Yassin names an application or removes it.

3	(not specified)	Left blank until Yassin names an application or removes it.
4	Project case studies	Template: hero video, a mono label row (product category, year, role), brief in 2 sentences, process stills, result clip. Only claims Yassin can verify.
5	PDF portfolio	16:9 pages, Oxblood or Mulberry ground, one project per spread, Cormorant titles, contact page with WhatsApp number.
6	Client pitch presentations	Cover with stacked lockup, "Imagine your product here" opener, client's product shown in mocked-up scenes, clear next step.
7	Proposals	Cream background for print and signing, Oxblood text, Rose Gold rules only. Scope, timeline estimate, revisions, terms.
8	Showreels	Open and close with the light sweep and monogram. Clean cuts between projects, no overlays except small mono labels.
9	Video title cards	Stacked lockup on Oxblood or Mulberry, 1.5 to 3 seconds, light sweep reveal.
10	Social media graphics	Product image or still on an Oxblood or Mulberry ground, one line of Manrope text, monogram corner. No stock templates or sticker-style elements.

Instagram bio (proposed rewrite)

1. Where products become visual stories.
2. AI-led cinematic product films | 3D animation
3. Jewelry | Accessories | Fragrance
4. Discuss your project on WhatsApp

This fixes the grammar ("products becomes") and the typo ("Lifstyle"), drops the sparkle emoji to match the serious voice, and uses the three categories from the discovery report. Add cosmetics and lifestyle back only if Yassin wants to be hired for them (see open items).

11. Claims, content boundaries and do/don't

Claims

- Do not show Glamour, Swarovski, Afnan or any other brand logo as a client. They are aspirational references only.
- Do not publish metrics, client logos, sales results or engagement figures unless Yassin can prove them.
- Present the 1-3 day timeline (up to 4 days for ads over 1 minute 30 seconds) as a typical estimate. Scope, approvals and revisions can change it.
- Describe the method honestly: AI-led visual production, with Blender 3D when the brief needs it. Do not market every project as a fixed AI-plus-3D hybrid.
- Only show projects Yassin has the right to display publicly, and state his role in each.

Content boundaries (for lead qualification)

Yassin does not take projects promoting smoking, vaping or alcoholic beverages, or comparable categories that conflict with his principles. List this on the contact page or in the WhatsApp reply so mismatched leads filter out early. Other categories are decided case by case.

Do / Don't

Do	Don't
Keep the product as the hero in every frame	Add decorative effects that compete with the product
Use one experimental device per piece	Stack transitions, glitches and effects
Keep gold below 10% of any layout	Use gold gradients, glitter or heavy glow
Write short, calm sentences	Use hype, emoji or exclamation marks
Use the same mark, fonts and palette on every channel	Redesign the look per platform

12. Open items before this is final

This is a first concept built from the discovery report. The report asks for explicit approval of the Brand Foundation before visual tokens are locked, so treat sections 4 to 9 as proposals.

- Instagram review. Reviewed from 3 screenshots (the profile header and 16 grid thumbnails), not the live profile. The videos themselves, their motion, pacing and captions have not been seen.
- Reference accounts. What Yassin wants to borrow from @buck.the.aikami, @el_sner and @seifhussam3d is still unannotated.
- Dark vs. light. Dark is proposed as the default, but the report lists it as a hypothesis to test against his work.
- "Rich visuals." The meaning of his own word "rich" should be confirmed.

- Rank 3 channel. No application was supplied.
- Markets and language. Egypt, the Gulf and international markets are not chosen. This decides whether Arabic typography is needed.
- Portfolio rights and pricing. Which projects can be shown publicly, and any budget minimums, are not yet confirmed.
- Tagline and CTA wording. All options are drafts.

Added after the screenshot review

- Logo direction. Choose A (fingerprint as the O, recommended), B or C, then draw it.
- Logo color. Recommended: Cream with a Rose Gold arc on Oxblood or Mulberry. The current teal is retired, so the fingerprint takes the palette's own colors. The alternative is keeping teal in the mark itself.
- Categories. His bio lists cosmetics and lifestyle. The discovery report lists jewelry, accessories and fragrance. Confirm which to market.
- Concept vs. client work. Identify which pieces are self-initiated concepts and which were paid projects.
- Off-brand pieces. Decide whether the cartoon, illustration and drink-ad pieces appear on the website at all.
- Long-text font. Both brand fonts are serifs. Decide whether to add a quiet sans (such as Manrope) for long copy, or keep Cinzel at a larger line height.
- Fonts in this PDF. The previews use stand-in fonts of a similar style, because Italiana and Cinzel could not be installed when this file was made. Check the final artwork in the real fonts.
